THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRATIC PARTY BLOCK CAPTAIN GUIDE

All throughout 2017 and 2018, we showed up in the streets to support allies—immigrants, Indigenous Nations, workers, farmers, families—to demonstrate that “We the People” stand with them in these dark days of Pres. Trump. Creativity and the spirit of “We the People” will guide us as we rebuild and grow the Democratic Party.

The Nebraska Democratic Party (NDP) stands with you in the streets and at the ballot box as we create this new path of change together. Let’s prove those naysayers wrong who say all we do is “march.” Let’s show up to vote in 2018 in strong numbers to flip seats from red to blue!

The way we end the current one-party rule of our nation and state is to organize block by block. It’s time to get back to the basics—talking to our neighbors about the issues that energize us and making sure voters have the information they need to get to the polls to vote for Democrats. As a Block Captain, you are creating change at the local, state and national level. Let’s all grab our clipboards, go into the community as proud Block Captains and hold conversations at the doors to let voters know we care about them. Together, we are growing the Good Life for all Nebraskans, not just a few at the top.

YOU ARE A BLOCK CAPTAIN, YOU ARE HOW WE WIN ELECTIONS.

As a Block Captain, you are a party leader in your designated community. All Block Captains are assigned 50 households of Democrats and Independents that live in your neighborhood. Block Captains volunteer to help elect Democrats up and down the ballot. Block Captains have a direct impact on local, statewide and national elections and are the most effective way to get voters to the polls.

As a Block Captain, you will canvass (which means you go to the door and give information) 50 houses in your neighborhood. The second door knock is talking about an issue facing Nebraska families. The third and final knock is a Get Out The Vote message for all Democrats on the ballot in 2018 giving your neighbors a slate card that lists these races.

Any Democrat at any age, even high school students, can serve as a Block Captain with the Nebraska Democratic Party. As long as you commit the time, and are willing to talk to your neighbors, you can serve as a grassroots leader with the Block Captain program.

PAID FOR BY THE NEBRASKA DEMOCRATIC PARTY

We must build up the Nebraska Democratic Party at the grassroots level if we are going to win elections.

If you look at the voter registration numbers, you might think we are pushing a rock up a very steep hill. The reality is, if we are going to end the current one-party rule of our state and country, Democrats and Independents must join forces for change.

We can no longer rely on candidates' great personality to carry the entire Democratic ticket. Winning elections is up to us. Winning elections is about the Block Captains connecting with voters in your neighborhoods and at the doors talking about real issues.

BUILDING THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY TAKES ALL OF US AND YOU ARE TAKING THE FIRST STEP.

Served Time? Nebraska does ensure ex-felon's right to vote is restored after a two-year waiting period once time is served, including probation. You can read all the background on voting rights for ex-felons here:

Independents can vote in the Democratic primary? YES, this is true. You can tell Independents (called Nonpartisans in our state) that the Democratic Party adopted a party rule that allows them to request a Democratic ballot in the mail or at the polling location when they vote in the Primary. The Republican Party does not welcome Independents.

UNDERSTANDING VOTE BY MAIL AND VOTING EARLY

You can actually vote from your house while you drink coffee and look up all the candidates. Pretty awesome!

Voting by mail starts 35 days prior to an election (Primary and General). You must request to vote by mail by completing a form and sending it to your County Election Office—the trade off is you get the cool “I Voted” sticker on Election Day.

Complete the vote by mail form and return to your County Election office: http://www.sos.ne.gov/elec/ele_forms.html

VOTE BY MAIL AND VOTING EARLY DATES

You can vote by mail or you can also walk into your local County Election office and vote early. You can find your local County Election office at: <http://www.sos.ne.gov/elec/clerks.html>.

YOU MUST REQUEST TO VOTE BY MAIL BY OCTOBER 26TH & THE EARLIER THE BETTER.

Complete Vote by Mail Applications by October 26 and bring the forms to your County Election Office.

You can walk into your County Election office to vote early starting on Oct. 9, 2018.

THREE WAYS TO VOTE

As a voter, you can decide on how you vote in the General (November 6) Election.

CHOOSE THE OPTION BEST FOR YOU.

1. Walk into your county election office and vote early.

You can start voting early on Oct. 9 for the General. Find your local county election office: sos.ne.gov/elec/clerks.html

OR

2. Vote by mail from your house, dorm or overseas!

Submit the Vote By Mail application by Oct. 26 for the General Election (the sooner you submit the form the better!): sos.ne.gov/elec/ele_forms.html.
A ballot then gets sent to you.

OR

3. Be old-school and vote at your polling location.

You get the cool “I Voted Sticker” and you get to take a selfie in the ballot box. Parents often bring the kids to start teaching the habit and duty of voting. You walk into your polling location 8am–8pm CT on Nov. 6 for the General Election. Find your polling location: votercheck.necvr.ne.gov/VoterView

No matter which option you choose, you must first be registered to vote! Register to vote, change your party or change your address: nebraska.gov/apps-sos-voter-registration

VOTING BY MAIL ROCKS

We understand voting by mail is new for many voters. More and more of us are choosing to vote by mail because it is quick, convenient and secure. Here are some other reasons we ❤️ vote by mail:

- You do not have to worry about bad weather on Election Day or long lines.
- You can look up the various candidates to see who is a Democrat (we have lots of non-partisan races so the party does not show up on the ballot for all candidates).
- If you are living or working overseas or going to college, you can still have your vote count.
- Some Nebraskans love getting together with their ballots and voting together—make it a party, Democracy is fun!
- We know when someone votes for a party 3 times in a row, they become a party voter for life. This is our goal. The habit of voting does not come automatically, but once you vote three times in a row, you won't miss another election.

Reminder: If you live in Arthur, Banner, Cuming, Dawes, Douglas, Gage, Gosper, Hall, Lancaster, Lincoln, Madison, Nemaha, or Scotts Bluff counties, you can request to be placed on a Permanent Early Vote list, and be sent a vote by mail application for every election!

Independent Voter Reminder: The Nebraska Democratic Party allows Independents to vote in our Primary Elections (Republicans do not welcome Independents). Just write "Democratic" on the party line on the vote by mail form or ask for a Democratic Ballot when you go to the polling location.

Get Your Canvass Results Back to the NDP

Once you complete your walk list with notes from your conversations at the doors, please send us the walk list so we can enter the data into the VAN (our state data system).

If you are using the VAN, you can enter the information online.

We have 4 ways you can turn in your packet after you knock on your doors:

1. You can request access to our voter file (VAN) to enter the data yourself
2. Scan and email them back to me at ronr@nebraskademocrats.org
3. Mail them back to the Lincoln office (201 N 8th St #210 Lincoln, NE 68508)
4. Drop them off at any of our offices in Omaha, La Vista, or Lincoln.

CANVASSING: YOUR CHECKLIST BEFORE YOU HEAD OUT THE DOOR

As a Block Captain, you need a few things to get started as you canvass your neighbors. Grab a good clipboard and tote bag to hold these critical items:

- At least two pens
- The list of your 50 households
- Canvass tips and reminders
- Vote by Mail forms
- Voter Registration forms
- Any material or flyers the NDP sends you to hand out to voters
- Post it notes (great way to leave a handwritten note to someone not home, which we strongly recommend)
- Water bottle, stay hydrated!
- Comfortable shoes
- NDP button on your jacket (if its cold) or your t-shirt, you want people to know you are with the Democratic Party

CANVASSING: DOOR-TO-DOOR CONVERSATIONS WIN ELECTIONS

Face-to-face conversations are the most effective way to turn out voters for Democrats. This is how we win elections at the grassroots level.

Talking with voters is a skill you will practice and develop over time. It is a bit of an art and a science.

Most of all try to remember how you would want to be approached. This often helps when going to the door.

Here are a few key principles to keep in mind:

1. Be yourself.
2. Listen attentively and with care.
3. If you don't know the answer, be honest and say you can find out and get back to them.
4. Stay positive.

Block Captain Tip: On average, you can knock 20 doors per hour. Usually, you talk to about 6 people in that hour because not everyone will be home.

DO THESE THINGS AT THE DOOR:

Talk to all 50 households in your neighborhood. Knock on all the doors on your walk list. These are the voters and neighbors you are now responsible for registering, educating and getting to the polls.

Look around before you knock. See if there is anything relatable you can use in the door conversation. A bumper sticker of a group you know, a great garden, nice yard, kids toys, etc. People are proud of their homes, saying something nice opens up the conversation.

Be friendly, but get firm commitments. If someone tells you they support Democrats, be sure to ask them to commit to vote. If they commit to vote, ask them to volunteer. And if someone is argumentative, politely end the conversation.

Use the script, but put it in your voice. The canvass script we email to you is a basic guide for your conversations. But be sure to use your personal story to explain why you're volunteering to serve as a Block Captain and why you are supporting Democrats up and down the ballot. That's the best way to build a meaningful connection with voters.

Smile and have fun! Voters will respond to your enthusiasm and your energy.

Shake the fence before you enter the gate. If you shake it and there is no dog warning sign this will usually wake a dog up so you know if its safe to enter. Some experienced canvassers carry a few dog treats in their pocket for the dog lover vote :)

Write legibly. Remember, we have to be able to read your writing in order to enter all of the data you're collecting which helps us make sure voters get follow up information in the mail from candidates and our Democratic Party.

Leave a note behind. If the voter is not home, write a quick note with your name signed. Leave the literature with your note somewhere the voter can see it—but never put it in or on their mailbox.

Follow up. If you don't know the answer to a question DON'T MAKE UP THE ANSWER, instead tell the voter "that is a good question, I will get back to you." Then either send them a note in the mail, drop by the house or leave them a voicemail with the answer.

Email info@nebraskademocrats.org for any questions.

DON'T DO THESE THINGS AT THE DOOR:

Don't give people an 'out' from talking with you. Steer clear from using language like, "Do you have a minute to talk or "Are you busy?" These make it easy for someone to tell you 'no' and shut down the conversation.

Don't go inside a house. Safety first. If you're invited into a home, politely decline.

Don't go inside a gate that has "warning dog." This is a good sign to simply leave a note rolled up in the fence and call this voter instead!

Don't put literature in the mailbox. Leave literature in the door or under the mat. It is illegal to insert material in someone's mailbox.

Don't be rude to anyone. Remember, you represent the Nebraska Democratic Party. If a voter does not agree with us, that is ok. We move on.

Don't get into an argument. Never ever ever ever ever ever get in an argument. If someone disagrees with you, or the Democratic Party or a candidate, offer to take their information and share it with the candidate.

Don't speak negatively of other points of view or people. This includes other candidates, Republicans and Trump. We can and do stand up, but we are not rude. As Michelle Obama says, "When they go low, we go high."

Don't place anything in the mailbox! (flyers, voter reg forms, vote by mail applications, etc.)

DO NOT CANVASS DURING ANY NEBRASKA (UNL) FOOTBALL GAMES.

PHONE BANKS: CALLING FOR CHANGE

Sometimes weather is awful, you can not get ahold of a voter at the door or you want to give an extra boost of information to your 50 households. Phone banks can be done just with you or you can have volunteers help you.

Block Captain Tip: On average, you can make 30 phone calls per hour. Usually, you talk to about 10 people out of the 30 attempts.

PRINCIPLES OF A SUCCESSFUL PHONE BANK

Before you call:

- Get water and set-up your calling station with things that make you happy (for Senator Wishart, that means a kitten in her lap...seriously).
- Read through your script three times, at least once out loud, and ask questions if you have any to campaign staff.
- Make sure you understand the ask. Are you asking for support, yard signs, donations?
- Read about the candidate or cause and make sure you have some material provided by them to reference.
- Create goals for yourself. How many yard signs or volunteers do you want to recruit?
- Smile like you mean it. No really. Smile even though you will be calling. People on the other side of the line will feel it.

On the call:

- Stay positive. Try standing up, so you have more energy and smile when you speak.
- Listen 80% of the time. Ask people about their lives and take time to get to know them.
- Slow down. Phone conversations require you to speak slower.
- Take good notes. Candidate and causes use your notes when making future connections. Every detail matters.
- Always make the ask to vote!

After the call:

- If someone is rude, brush it off. Think positively about the next call.
- Reward yourself (Senator Wishart likes to eat M&M's and Senator Morfeld cracks open a beer).
- Turn in your notes to the NDP.

*Thank you Sen. Morfeld, Sen. Wishart, Sarpy County Chair Charlene Ligon for these tips.

As a Block Captain, you are seen as a leader in your community, because of that we have included some extra information and resources. We included ways that people can get trained to help with campaigns or run themselves.

Your neighbors will also be interested on how they can get involved and make a difference, so we included information about trainings, good sources of political information, how to write a letter to the editor, how to call your elected officials, how to attend town halls, and more!

Block Captain Trainings

All of the NDP Block Captains trainings are held on Facebook live. You can watch them on the day of the training and ask questions in real time or watch the recorded training when you have time. TOWN HALLS

Members of Congress come back every couple of months for work periods in the state. Showing up at Town Halls is a critical way to have your voice heard. You can find when your Members of Congress will be home at the calendar links below.

Senate Calendar: www.senate.gov/legislative/2018_schedule.htm

NEBRASKA'S CONGRESSIONAL MEMBERS

We know as a Block Captain you will often be asked contact information on key elected officials, you will find all of that information on the next few pages.

Call and write Members of Nebraska's Congressional delegation often about issues you care about, bills and Executive Orders.

Congressional Switchboard—

Save this number in your phone: 202-224-3121

Just tell the operator your zip code and they patch right thru to your Members of Congress!

Always give the Member of Congress' staff member your name and address, tell them you want an answer to your question in writing.

About Our Members of Congress:

Nebraska's Congressional Delegation is made up of two United States Senators who represent the entire state and three House of Representatives members who cover the various districts across our state. All five of Nebraska's Members of Congress are Republicans (for now!).

Senators have terms of 6 years—Sasse is up for re-election in 2020 and Fischer is up for re-election in 2018. House Members have terms of 2 years—so Fortenberry, Bacon and Smith are all up for re-election in 2018.

Writing Your Member of Congress:

- First describe who you are and why you are writing.
- Then describe why the issue you are writing about matters to you.
- Make it personal.
- Ask a question at the end of the letter so you do not get a basic form letter back (or at least it's a good try to not get a form letter!).

Example: Can you please write me back letting me know if you will encourage other Senators to join your call for more support of family farmers in the Farm Bill.

Include your contact information (name, address, email and phone) on the actual letter because the return envelope often gets misplaced.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letters do not have to be long or poetic. Just write from your heart. Elected officials read the letters to the editors, so this is a critical way to get messages out. Students can help increase awareness by sharing their ideas and opinions in their school papers.

The NDP has some of the newspapers' links to submit a letter to the editor on our website:

<http://nebraskademocrats.org/letter-to-the-editor>

Basic information to include in your letter to the editor (often called LTEs):

- Start with a catchy opening and make your point clearly in the first paragraph. Often times readers don't go beyond that first paragraph.
- Papers have different guidelines for the number of words allowed, which are all posted on their websites. Usually the word count is between 200-250 words.
- State your facts but do not overuse numbers. Letters that explain why you personally care about an issue will help connect the reader with you more than numbers.
- Do not use form LTEs. Editors will not publish them.
