Quick Overview of what the State Central Committee is and what they do

SCC Membership

Composition:

- “Membership shall include state party officers, State Executive Committee voting members and delegates and alternates from counties as apportioned by the State Central Committee according to the Bylaws of the Nebraska Democratic Party. Membership shall be limited to active party members.” (NDP Constitution and Bylaws Article IV Section 2 Paragraph B).
- The membership may be added to or decreased by amending the relevant article or bylaw that defines their category. Article IV Section 3 defines the State Executive Committee, Article IV Section 5 defines the officers of the party, and Bylaw 5.2 defines the delegates currently apportioned to the State Central Committee. The State Convention may authorize additional categories by amending Article IV.

Electing delegates and alternates and filling vacancies:

- Delegates shall be elected by their respective Legislative District Caucuses at the State Convention in accordance with NDP Constitution and Bylaws. State Executive Committee members including party officers shall be elected in accordance with NDP Constitution and Bylaws.
- Vacancies shall be filled in accordance with the procedure listed in Article V of the NDP Constitution and Bylaws.

Absentee policy & notification of member’s removal.

“Members of the State Central Committee, State Executive Committee, Standing Committees, and Special Committees accumulating two absences without notification during their term will constitute forfeiture of office.”

- The NDP staff will attempt to contact the member and notify them of their status. Members should inform the staff if they believe the information is incorrect.

Code of Conduct

- Members shall conduct themselves in accordance with the Code of Conduct of the Nebraska Democratic Party.
- Violations of the Code of Conduct may cause the member to be subject to disciplinary actions in accordance with the NDP Constitution and Bylaws.

Meeting Procedures

Types of meetings

The State Central Committee is authorized to conduct the following types of meetings.

Regular meetings:

Per the bylaws, there are four regular meetings per year. The dates of these meetings are approved by the State Central Committee. The 30-day and 10-day packets shall be used to make notifications for these meetings. These meetings shall be considered sessions for parliamentary purposes. They can be extended by adjourned meetings.

Additional meetings:

Additional meeting or meetings called by the party chair in addition to the four regular meetings. They may have a limited agenda and notification should be made. Since these meetings may be called on short notice there may be insufficient time for the 30-day packet.

- Special meetings: Special meetings are meetings that are called by the chair for a limited purpose, such as a disciplinary trial. These meetings can be either in-person or via telephone. The only items of business authorized are the business specified in the call. Any actions taken beyond the call of the meeting must be ratified at the next regular, additional meeting, or special meeting called for that purpose.
- Adjourned meetings: Adjourned meetings are meetings in continuation of the session of the immediately preceding regular, additional, or special meeting. These meetings are scheduled if the SCC desires to continue the meeting at a later time. These meetings may also be scheduled because of the lack of quorum at the regular, special, or additional meeting.
- Executive session: Executive session is a meeting or portion of a meeting that only members, special invitees, and necessary staff members are allowed to attend. A majority vote is required to enter into and exit from executive sessions. Minutes from the executive session are handled in a special way that is outlined in a later section.
- Electronic meeting: Telephone meetings are authorized by the NDP Constitution and Bylaws. These meetings must include formal notification and quorum. Simultaneous aural communication must be available to all participants.

Scheduling meetings

Meetings should be scheduled in advance to provide sufficient notice for members to arrange their schedule. The State Central Committee must approve the schedule. The state chair may call special or additional meetings. Meetings may also be called by a petition process stated in the Bylaws

Notification of meetings

Members of the State Central Committee should receive notifications of any regular or special meetings in order to adjust their schedules. The call of a special meeting or additional meeting should be at least 30 days prior unless the urgency of the matter prevents this.

Quorum

A quorum is the minimum number of members that must be present in order to conduct business. Quorum for the SCC meeting, district caucuses, and subordinate committees shall be the quorum published in the NDP Constitution and Bylaws. Failure to obtain or maintain quorum will limit the meeting to items that do not require a quorum:

- Actions to obtain quorum,
- Motions to recess or adjourn
- Fix the time to which to adjourn

Agenda

The Chair should use, when possible the order of business outlined in Chapter 41 of the Parliamentary Authority.

1. Reading and Approval of Minutes
2. Reports of Officers, Boards, and Standing Committees
3. Reports of Special (Select or Ad Hoc) Committees
4. Special Orders
5. Unfinished Business and General Orders
6. New Business

A more detailed agenda should be included in the notification packages. Members that wish items be added to the agenda need to notify the chair for inclusion in the agenda.

Approval of minutes

Minutes will be distributed no later than 30 days prior to the next meeting. The chair will ask if there are any corrections to the minutes. If there are no corrections the minutes will stand. The members will vote on any proposed corrections. Corrections to minutes from prior meetings may be accomplished by a majority vote.

Standing rules for meetings

The SCC may adopt, amend, or suspend standing rules for administrative procedures and meeting procedures. A majority vote is needed unless a greater vote is required by the governing documents.

Debate procedures

Floor debate will be conducted in accordance with the parliamentary authority and other governing documents.

- The SCC may establish time limits for speakers by a motion and a two-thirds vote or unanimous consent.
- A member wishing to speak in debate will rise and be recognized by the chair.
- The chair may ask for what purpose the member seeks recognition or may simply recognize the speaker.
- Prior to speaking, members should state their name and Legislative district.
- “When assigned the floor, a member may use it for any proper purpose, or a combination of purposes; for example, although a member may have begun by debating a pending motion, he may conclude by moving any secondary motion, including the Previous Question, that is in order at the time.” [RONR (11TH ed.), P. 378 II 1-6]
- The chair may rule a motion out of order or improper if the chair believes the member is using the motion for dilatory purposes.
- The chair may rule on Points of Order or may allow the members to vote on the question raised. Any ruling on a Point of Order should be recorded into the minutes to establish a precedent. The precedent may be ignored in whole or part by future Chairs. [RONR (11TH ed.), P. 251 II 28-31, RONR (11TH ed.), P. 252 II 1-17]

Platform resolutions

- Platform resolutions shall be submitted to the Platform and Resolutions Committee at least 21 days prior to the meeting.
- The Platform Committee should make recommendations in accordance with the bylaws.
- If for any reason the Platform Committee is unable to make a recommendation on the resolution, that resolution should be forwarded without recommendation.
- If a member does not submit a resolution within the 21-day window, the requirement may be suspended by a two-thirds vote. [Bylaw 5.10.1.1.4 NDP Constitution and Bylaws]
- The Platform and Resolutions Committee may publish additional requirements however, such requirements may not exceed the bylaw requirements nor interfere with the rights of the member or the State Central Committee.

Bylaw Amendments

- The NDP Constitution and Bylaws should be seen as an agreement or compact between the organization and its members as to the fundamental nature of the group. Amending the bylaws is an inherent right of any member. It should never be seen as the sole province of any group or any subordinate committee. It is an inherent right of the State Central Committee to debate and dispose of those amendments. Any attempt to block or dissuade members from submitting an amendment should be considered a violation of both the member's rights and the rights of the State Central Committee. Adopting a bylaw is not an inherent right and members are free to oppose, amend, or vote against any changes.

- The NDP Constitution and Bylaws authorize the State Central Committee to make rules to govern itself and any subordinate group outlined in the Constitution. The NDP Constitution and Bylaws limit this right to amending Bylaw 5. However, all sections of Bylaw 5 are open to amendment but these amendments must be consistent with other sections of the NDP Constitution and Bylaws.
- Bylaw 9 defines the notification requirements. Additionally, a copy of the proposed amendments should be sent to the Rules Committee at the time of notification.
- The notification should contain the following information as a minimum. (see example)
 - The bylaw number and section being amended.
 - The formal language of the amendment i.e. "insert", "strike out", or "substitute", etc.
 - Contact information for the person amending the bylaw.
 - (optional) The rationale for the amendment.
 - (optional) A graphic representation of the change with strikethroughs for words to be stricken and using underscores, bold, or italic fonts, for words added.
 - Any primary or secondary amendments to the proposals must meet the same notification requirements as the proposed amendments, if the primary or secondary amendments would propose a greater change than the original amendment.

Presiding Officer

- The party chair should serve as the presiding officer for the meetings.
- The party chair should have available the Constitution and Bylaws, the Parliamentary Authority, and the Standing Rules
- If the chair wishes to participate in debate the chair should allow the vice chair to preside.
- Committee chairs should not preside during the presentation of their report. [RONR (11TH ed.), P. 453 II 18-25]
- The presiding officer should be familiar with the duties of a presiding officer as stated in the NDP Constitution and Bylaws, and the Parliamentary Authority

County Chair Caucus, Affiliated Caucus Organization (ACO) and Affiliated Policy Council (APC) Meetings

- The NDP should schedule a time for these meetings to take place in conjunction with the State Central Committee meeting.

Affiliated Caucus Organizations (Caucuses) are constituency groups identified by born traits. Affiliated Policy Councils (Councils) are focused on issues. They are all governed by their own bylaws. Some caucuses and councils have rules for membership and voting. If you plan to attend a constituency caucus for a trait you don't possess be sure that you are entering that space in a respectful way and not pushing your agenda on a group you don't belong to.

- Democrats Experiencing Disabilities
- Latinx Caucus
- Native Caucus
- Stonewall Democrats
- Young Democrats

Affiliated Policy Councils

- Climate Caucus

Standing Committees

“5.10.1. Standing Committees. (a) Standing committees of the Nebraska Democratic Party shall include: Platform and Resolutions; Rules; State Convention; Finance; Nominating; Archives and Historical Preservation; Technology; and Audit and Review; (b) Committee Chairs shall be appointed by the incoming State Chair with the approval of the State Central Committee. Standing Committee Chairs shall continue in office until their successors are duly appointed and approved. Chairs should be appointed no later than at the first Central Committee meeting following the General Election; (c) Committee members shall be elected by the authorized members attending the Congressional District Caucus at the first regular meeting of the State Central Committee following the Convention. The organizational meeting of a new State Central Committee shall not be considered the first regular meeting for purposes of this rule.”

- Vacancies shall be filled as specified in the NDP Constitution and Bylaws.
- If the chair of a committee fails to call the necessary meetings for a committee to accomplish its functions any two members may call a committee meeting. [RONR (11th ed.), p. 499, ll. 21-23]
- Committees should report to the State Central Committee in the manner prescribed by the NDP Constitution and Bylaws.

Special Committees

“5.10.3. Special Committees. The State Chair, or when necessary, one of the Vice Chairs or National Committee Representatives may establish any special committees as deemed necessary to carry out the functions of the party. Special committees must be approved by the State Central Committee; provided, however, that a Special Committee formed for the purpose of investigating alleged misconduct injurious to the NDP or its members may be authorized to conduct such investigation and report its existence and/or recommendations at the next State Central Committee meeting. Special Committees should be of limited duration and exist for a specific purpose or goal. Membership on a special committee should be relevant to the purpose of the committee and must include representation from all congressional Districts.”

- “Proper Composition Of Committees. The members of a standing committee should be chosen so as to provide the strongest possible group for the handling of any task that may arise within the province of the committee. In the case of a special committee, the purpose for which it is appointed affects the desirable size and composition, as follows:
 - When a special committee is appointed to implement an order of the assembly, it should be small and should consist only of those in favor of the action to be carried out. If anyone not in sympathy with the action is appointed, he should ask to be excused.

- When a special committee is appointed for deliberation or investigation, however, it should often be larger, and it should represent, as far as possible, all points of view in the organization, so that its opinion will carry maximum weight. When such a committee is properly selected, its recommendations will most often reflect the will of the assembly. By care in selecting committees, debates on delicate and troublesome questions in ordinary societies can be mostly confined to the committees. The usefulness of the committee will be greatly impaired, on the other hand, if any important faction of the assembly is not represented.” [RONR (11th ed.), p. 497, ll. 34–35, RONR (11th ed.), p. 498, ll. 1–24]
- The Special Committee shall report as specified in the motion to establish the special committee or as necessary to the State Central Committee.
- “A special (select, or ad hoc) committee is a committee appointed, as the need arises, to carry out a specified task, at the completion of which—that is, on presentation of its final report to the assembly—it automatically ceases to exist.” [RONR (11th ed.), p. 492, ll. 3–9]

It can interrupt a speaker, requires a second, is normally debatable, and a majority or tie vote will sustain the decision of the chair. Can be applied to most rulings of the chair.

- Capitalize and italicize Resolved.
- Place a comma following “Resolved.”
- Capitalize the word “That” following the comma.
- End each clause with a semicolon
- Following semicolon on the next to last paragraph add the word “and”
- End the last paragraph with a period.

Example:

Whereas, The SCC Meetings are getting too long;
 Whereas, The members may need to travel following the meetings; and
 Whereas, Too much time is being wasted by trivial matters; now, therefore, be it
Resolved, That the SCC meetings will adjourn not later than 4 p.m. local time;
Resolved, That the length of the SCC meeting be no longer than 2 hours; and
Resolved, That the rest of the schedule be adjusted to accommodate this requirement.

Resolution for a Platform Statement

Preamble:

- Follow the rules listed above for preambles. However, a participle (Believing...; Recalling...; and Noting...; etc.) may be used instead of “Whereas”
- A phrase such as “The State Central Committee of the Nebraska Democratic Party issues the following statement.” may be used before or after the preamble.

Resolving Clauses:

- Follow the rules listed above for the resolving clauses. However, a verb denoting an attitude or position (affirms, commends, condemns, calls upon, rejects, etc.) can be used in lieu of “Resolved”.

Example:

Believing; That climate change is a threat to our planet; and
 Believing; That this problem must be addressed internationally by all nations;
 The State Central Committee of the Nebraska Democratic Party
Condemns, The Trump Administration for withdrawing from the Paris Accords; and Condemns, The Trump Administration for lowering fuel efficiency standards.

Amending a Bylaw

Forming the Amendment:

Determine the bylaw you wish to amend or rescind.

Determine if there are any additional bylaws that would also require amending to be compatible with your amendment.

Determine if the Bylaws or constitutional articles you wish to amend can be accomplished by the State Central Committee or the State Convention.

Obtain assistance from the Rules Committee when necessary.

Prepare the wording and making notifications

Amending a bylaw or constitution article consists of adding, removing, or in some way modifying the language of the item to be amended in such a way as to achieve a desired result.

After the necessary wording has been added, removed, or modified the SCC must be notified of the proposed changes. The motion should state where the change will take place and what the change should be, the person making the change, the contact information of the person making the change, and the rationale for the change.

A graphical representation of the change is optional and may help clarify the notification, however it should not take the place of the formal wording. Since it may not always be possible to infer the correct motion.

Example: (Professional Format)

In Bylaw 5.x.x following the word “in” strike the word “June” and add the word “August”. When amended the new language will read “The annual meeting must be held in August.”

Existing Language	Proposed Changes	Will read
“5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in June.”	“5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in June August. ”	“5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in August.”

Rationale: This will prevent our annual meeting from conflicting with the other summer activities that have plagued us in the past.

Note: A single or double column version of the graphic can be used.

“5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in June.”	“5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in June August. ”

5.x.x The annual meeting must be held in June August. ”
